IN REPLY TO MACHINE GUNNER.

1. "Owing to the speed with which single rounds can be fired, the greater accuracy obtained by this method and the need for economy of ammunition, single round firing should be employed whenever possible"
2. "Bursts should be reserved for extreme emergencies, and, when used should be of 2 or 3 rounds only." SAT Vol 1 Para 21.
3. The above quotation is republished in the interests of safety, accuracy and ammunition economy. Personnel armed with this weapon are prone to think only in terms of automatic fire which is wasteful and inaccurate except at very short ranges. As a general rule, the change lever on these weapons should normally be set to fire single rounds and only moved to "automatic when the occasion at the moment demands it.
